HIGH PRICES FOR TOBACCO

AVERAGES ABOVE 30 CENTS A POUND ARE COMMON ON LOCAL BREAKS.

DANVILLE MARKET STILL MAINTAINING STANDARD OF HIGHEST IN STATE.

DUNN & HUGUELY GET AVERAGE OF OVER 33 CENTS FOR THEIR CROP.

(Danville Advocate, Wednesday.) Tobacco is continuing to bring high prices on the local markets, and notwithstanding the severe weather growers are bringing their crops to town. Rejections have been an unknown proposition this season.

Although quite a lot of wet, frozen tobacco in the worst sort of condition has been on the floors, the averages are still keeping up.

There was a splendid market today, and Col. Ike Dunn and his co-workers are highly pleased with the result.

Many farmers have netted more profit per acre this time than the value of the land, and the growers are naturally elated—especially those who sell on the Danville breaks. Following are a few averages secured at the Peoples House this morning:

Dunn and Hughes, of Garrard county, sold the following baskets:
250 pounds at	33c
200 pounds at	32c
150 pounds at	31c
100 pounds at	30c
50 pounds at	29c
25 pounds at	28c
12 1/2 pounds at	27c
6 1/4 pounds at	26c
3 1/8 pounds at	25c
AVERAGE, $30.95

Hester and Long, of Lincoln county, sold the following baskets:
245 pounds at	31c
200 pounds at	30c
150 pounds at	29c
100 pounds at	28c
50 pounds at	27c
25 pounds at	26c
12 1/2 pounds at	25c
6 1/4 pounds at	24c
3 1/8 pounds at	23c
AVERAGE, $33.20

BAILEY HILL IN LONDON Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hill received a letter from their son, Bailey Hill, who joined the navy some months ago. It was written in London under date of Dec. 7th. Among other things he says: "We had some awfully rough weather coming over and I thought at times that the ship was going to roll over. Rations are short in England, about all we can get to eat being a piece of fish and a cup of coffee or tea. The people are eating grease for butter and neither sugar nor white flour can be had. We had a German air raid and I have a piece of a German bomb that I hope to bring back to you all. Love to everybody in Stanford."

IS NOT COUNTY JUDGE YET

By a mistake on the part of somebody in Gov. A. O. Stanley's office, Sheriff J. G. Weatherford was sent a commission as county judge of this county, when it should have been sent to Mr. T. A. Rice, who was elected to that office in November. He will of course return the document to the chief executive at once. Mr. Weatherford's friends admit that he would make an excellent judge but are all willing to let Judge Rice serve his term out before they nominate and elect him.

GIRLS! HAVE A MASS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR, SOFT, GLOSSY, WAVY

A Small Bottle Destroys Dandruff And Doubles Beauty of Your Hair

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be kept soft, shiny and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an appearance of lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

A balance of $1.75 which will be spent for repairs on locks for door and windows.—Mrs. McBee, teacher.

WITH THE CHURCHES

Rev. W. D. Welburn will preach at Neal's Creek Sunday afternoon at 2:30 if the weather and roads permit.

The Methodists hope to resume worship in the courthouse Sunday. Sunday School at 9:30; preaching at 10:45. Remember the Orphans' Home offering, which should have been taken last Sunday.

Presbyterian Church, Sunday, Jan. 6—Sunday School 9:45; Morning Service 11. The Communion will be celebrated. C. E. Meeting 6:30. Union service at 7 o'clock. Sermon by Rev. H. J. Brazleton. Offering for the United Charities Fund.

Christian Church—Sunday School 10 o'clock, R. M. Blackerby, Supt. Lord's Supper and morning sermon, 11 o'clock. Subject: "A program for the year." The minister will preach the sermon at the union service at the Presbyterian church Sunday night. Do not forget the offering for local charities to be taken at that service.

The members of the Goshen church have called Rev. N. Boling, of Brodhead, to preach for them this year. Rev. J. G. Livingston, who was instrumental in building the church and has been their efficient and beloved pastor for thirty-seven years, will, when his health permits still preach one Sunday in each month for them.

There was a surprised preacher in town Wednesday night. The gentleman was none other than Rev. Howard J. Brazleton, minister of the Christian church. Usually he maintains his equilibrium under trying circumstances, but when a bunch of men, some of whom do not often attend prayer meeting dignified that service with their presence Wednesday night, the preacher began searching for a reason, and finally decided it was a New Year resolution, when his health permits still preach one Sunday in each month for them.

But after the meeting the crowd hurried away leaving the parson to turn off the lights; even those living up his street left him to come alone through the dark and snow. Approaching his house he heard the sound of many voices and upon entering he found the church crowded with a few minutes before. They were none other than the men of his official board, who had planned the surprise that they might spend an informal social evening in the parson's home, thus giving him another expression of their continued good will. They brought with them their own refreshments, consisting of ice cream, sherbet, cake, fruits, candy and nuts. These were served by Mesdames J. B. Foster, J. H. Woods and H. J. Brazleton, the only ladies present to grace the occasion. That which added interest to the occasion was the fact of which the crowd was previously unaware, that Thursday would be the birthday of the surprised host. It was a season of good fellowship enjoyed by a jolly, rollicking crowd of men who also knew how to be serious at the proper time, and whose support is always given to every good enterprise. Fortunately, indeed, is the preacher who can number such men among his friends and supporters.

STANFORD SOLDIER UNDER FIRE "We have had several brushes with the enemy since reaching the trenches here, which I am sure I would not have reached had it not been for my Wonderful Remedy. It has entirely cured me of indigestion and awful gas in my stomach. Army food now digests as good as mother's used to." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Lincoln Pharmacy and The Penny Drug Store.

BOUGHT SOME FINE DUROCS

Col. R. H. Crow, of the Shelby City section, is back from Hodgeville, where he attended the Duroc sale of Miller & LaRue. Col. Crow has some fine Durocs, but he added to his lot four "peaches" which he bought at the Miller & LaRue sale. His purchases were superb yearling sows, sired by Ohio Colonel, Advance Colonel and Top Colonel Advance. They are all bred to the best hogs in the State and their progeny should be great. Col. Crow would not say what he paid for the bunch, but admitted that they cost him a very snug sum of money.

OVER 1,900 MEMBERS

As the result of the Christmas Red Cross Drive there are 1,925 members of the Red Cross in this county, 967 having been added to the former membership of 958. In addition to this good work several hundred dollars worth of yarn has been knitted into sweaters, scarfs, wristlets, etc.

Three shipments of hundreds of surgical dressing, hospital shirts, pajamas, etc., have been made and all were accepted and passed on as first-class. Some counties in this section have been able to report larger membership than Lincoln, but none can beat her in work, and the good women are entitled to the lion's share of the credit.

BRYAN TO OUR RESCUE

In answer to a wire sent him by Mayor A. B. Florence, of this city, telling him that the people here were sadly in need of coal, Federal Fuel Administrator for Kentucky, W. B. Bryan, of Louisville writes: "I am in telegraphic communication with Hazard and Harlan coal operators in an effort to secure for your town a sufficient amount of coal to remove the present conditions." Mr. Bryan says further that he is doing everything in his power to alleviate the acute situation and that Stanford people may rest assured that they have his co-operation.

Read each statement fully and see you can find a quadruple of better banks in any county of Lincoln's size in the State.

Garfield Elder, who shot Fred Deblin, also of East End of the county, in a fight on Sunday before Christmas and who has been out on $500 bond, will be tried next Thursday. Deblin's doctor did not deem him well enough to come to town yesterday for trial. Elder, it will be remembered, emptied the contents of his double-barreled shot gun into Deblin, with whom he had some trouble over a horse trade.

Mrs. W. H. Curtis and sons, Sterling and Clyde Curtis, have bought the Napier farm close to Crab Orchard and have moved to it from the place on the Crab Orchard pike they recently sold to B. W. Gaines. By this exchange Stanford loses a mighty good family to its suburban night of Crab Orchard.

Owens, of the Hustonville district; T. L. Tucker, of the Crab Orchard district, and Henry Hall, of Waynesburg—all democrats except the latter. Such a splendid bunch of men in charge of this good county should make it boom like she never has before, and we shall expect to see her do so.

THANKS TO SUPT. SHERIDAN

The people of Stanford are under lasting obligations to Supt. W. F. Sheridan, of the L. & N., for securing them several car-loads of coal when it looked as if there was no earthly show to get any. Supt. Sheridan, who lived here many years when he was chief train dispatcher of this division, has a warm place in his big heart for Stanford people and he was determined that they should not suffer from cold when it was in his power to help them. We do not know how he did it, but he got several car-loads of coal for the Stanford Water, Light & Ice Co., when that concern was ready to shut up shop because of the lack of fuel. Mr. Sheridan's good turn for Stanford and her people will not be forgotten, but it will make the clever gentleman even more popular here than he now is.

DEATH OF WELL KNOWN LADY

Miss Laura Lindenberger, who is related to Judge James P. Bailey and Mrs. G. B. Cooper, of this city, died at the home of her uncle, Hart Bailey, in Shelby county, Tuesday. She had made her home with her uncle for some time. Miss Lindenberger had visited here frequently and is remembered by many of our people as being a splendid young woman. She was the daughter of George Lindenberger, of New York, and a sister of Miss Lillie Lindenberger, at one time considered the most beautiful woman in Louisville.

THE CAMPBELLS LOSE SON

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Campbell, who lived here a number of years ago, met the misfortune to lose by death their son, Ernest Pettus Campbell, of Shelby County. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have been living at Bellevue for the past ten years. Young Campbell, who was 16 years old, was a member of Uncle Sam's Navy and was a fine boy.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A CHILD

Clarence Earl Rambo, son of Mr. Clarence Rambo, who is assistant section foreman, died very suddenly Wednesday morning. The little fellow, who was only seven months old, was found very ill when his parents awoke at an early hour Wednesday and he died in less than two hours. The death occurred in the Mt. Moriah graveyard near Highland Thursday afternoon, after remarks by Mr. J. C. McClary, of this city.

VOGEL'S MINSTRELS OUIT GAME

John W. Vogel, who brought his minstrel show to Stanford Dec. 1st, will close down Saturday next, and quit the game for a while. This announcement was made by him at Gallopis, O., where he played this week. Bad business and trouble in getting his show over the road during the war times are reasons given for his closing down.

REMEMBERING THEIR FRIENDS

McRoberts & Bailey are remembering their friends and customers with a cute little bill book, which comes in mighty handy for those who have a bill these cold, high-price times. E. T. Pence, Jr., wanting all to know that the weather is frigidly cold is giving away thermometers to those who call for them.

HER TROUBLE IS GONE

Mrs. Thomas H. Davis, Montgomery, Ind., says she had trouble with her bladder and had doctored for several months without relief, when Foley Kidney Pills were recommended and she commenced using them and got relief. They relieve backache, rheumatic pains, stiff, swollen joints and kidney trouble. Sold Everywhere.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

There were several auto accidents during the holidays, but fortunately few if any of our people were injured. Mike McCarty, whose auto was struck by an L. & N. train at the Danville crossing, had a very narrow escape but was not much hurt. His auto was badly damaged.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING

The stockholders of the Crab Orchard Banking Co. will meet at the banking house at 10 A. M., Tuesday, Jan. 8, 1918, for the purpose of electing the directors for the ensuing year and attend to such other business as may come before the body. H. G. Skiles, cashier.

SHERIDAN KAVANAUGH INDICTED

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, B. M. Starks, general manager; W. F. Sheridan, division superintendent, and F. J. Fishback, master of trains, charged with "creating and maintaining a common nuisance," and William Wolfenberger, engineer, charged with voluntary manslaughter, were indicted by the special grand jury in investigating the wreck at Shepherdsville December 20, which resulted in forty-eight deaths and injuries to scores of others. Under the Kentucky statutes, Engineer Wolfenberger is liable to punishment in the form of a fine or imprisonment, or both at the discretion of the jury. The L. & N., as a corporation, is liable only to a fine, for creating and maintaining a common nuisance, but General Manager Starks, Division Superintendent Sheridan and Master of Trains Fishback are liable to a fine or imprisonment, or both at the discretion of the jury.

TAX RATE RAISED TO 75 CENTS

At a meeting of the city council last night, which by the way, was the last for the present councilmen, the tax rate for 1918 was fixed at 75c, which is 10c more than it had been for the last two or three years. It was necessary to do this in order to meet the increased amount charged by the Stanford Water, Light & Ice Co., which has raised its rates on water and lights furnished the city 15 per cent., or from $4,260 to $4,899. The reason for the raise is the increased expense of running the business of the company. A few bills were ordered paid and some routine work was attended to, after which the members of the board bade each other farewell, as far as further work together is concerned.

CHANCELLOR AND HIS HORSE

The New Orleans Times-Picayune of Dec. 30th contains an excellent picture of George E. Chancellor, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Bedell Chancellor, of Walnut Flat, this county. The paper also prints a picture of Mr. Chancellor's crack, half-bred, Emden, a four-year-old, by Broomstick, which is a broad winner with few equals. He has already won four races at New Orleans with Emden and the paper says he seems to have enough speed to beat any that may start against him. Mr. Chancellor has had remarkable success with his horses, and while his string was only four in it, he has probably won more races in the last five years than any man on the turf with an equal number of thoroughbreds.

BULLY FOR F. P. SPOONAMORE

Frank P. Spoonamore, the clever miller and coal dealer, has the thanks of Stanford people generally for letting the Stanford Water, Light & Ice Co. have 100 bushels of coal Tuesday, when it looked as if water and lights would have to be cut off because of a lack of fuel. He positively declined to sell any person or firm that much of coal that he had gotten, but very obligingly loaned it to the above concern, and as a result the Stanford Water, Light & Ice Co. was able to run as usual.

SMALL-POX AT CRAB ORCHARD

Dr. J. G. Carpenter, chairman of the Lincoln County Board of Health, informs the Interior Journal that a son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hays, the Crab Orchard merchant, has a case of small-pox. The young man came in from the West some time ago and was taken ill with the disease a few days after his arrival. Dr. Carpenter says further that Dr. W. J. Edmiston is looking after the case and that every effort possible will be made to prevent a spread of the loathsome disease.

TRAYLOR PROPERTY UNSOLD

On account of the fearfully cold weather Saturday very few people attended the sale of the Traylor property on Danville avenue, now occupied by Mr. J. Nevin Carter and family, and the United Realty Co. deemed it best to postpone for a while efforts to sell it. Mr. Francis, who came to conduct the sale, gave away a number of presents to those who held curbs calling for them, but did not offer the property. It is probable that it will change hands privately soon.

GIVE FARMER BOYS CHANCE

Secretary Baker has a plan to permit farmer boys in the army to return to their homes at periodical intervals to assist in crop production. He outlined it to a delegation of New York farmers, who protested against conditions created by the scarcity of labor.

Headed by L. C. Stiver, the farmers representing the New York Federation of Farm Bureaus, explained in detail the difficulties which confront the farmers. They did not ask for exemption of farm laborers, but suggested that it would be necessary either to exempt farm labor or conscript it. It was pointed out that the crop of 1917 was short largely because of inability to secure sufficient labor. This, the farmers admitted, was due somewhat to the migration of farm laborers to industrial centers, but the taking of men from the farms into the army, it was explained, had made the situation worse, and if the crop of 1918 is to be at its maximum some relief must be given. The Secretary told the farmers he was studying a plan to grant furloughs in the spring and the fall to boys from the farms whose training had been sufficiently advanced, on the condition that they would return to their homes. A compulsory leave from the army in order to assist with the farm work, however, is no part of the plan.

Catarrh of Throat

Miss Amalie Ruzicka, 1449 South 16th St., Omaha, Nebraska, writes: "I have suffered with catarrh of the throat. I caught cold and it settled in my throat, and I coughed badly and was very weak. I could not sleep and had no appetite. I had two doctors, and had taken so many different medicines and found no help. I thought I will have to give up; but at last my mother read about Peruna, so I thought of trying that great medicine Peruna. I got a bottle of it and in about four days I almost stopped coughing, and after a while I surely found relief, and from that time we are not without Peruna in our home."

Could Not Sleep No Appetite Now Well. We Always Have PERUNA in the Home.

Those who object to liquid medicines can procure Peruna Tablets.

A WORD FROM DR. HANEY

Middleburg, Ky., Dec 30, 1917. To the I. J.—To do one's bit. To help win the war is the all absorbing topic of both hemispheres. Indeed a voluminous subject. I presume there isn't an adult individual in all this vast space, even the sneakers, who has not been implored to take a stand or do their bit toward winning or ending the world war. That bill an Iowa representative offered in congress of late, if passed I think would be the key stone in the arch bridging us over. The Americans are full partners. If we win all go up rejoicing. If we lose all go down. The outcome of the whole depends upon all the factors involved. And some of the most efficient factors from every standpoint are in Washington. Might say from three standpoints viz. When, where and what? Now, I presume we all agreed that a member of the U. S. congress ought to know when to give. I refer to all aid and comfort, but mostly to money. Elucidating further or to where these august members know where it would do most good. Lastly, the what. Now we all agreed that the ability depended largely on the amount of filthy lucre. We have reason to believe they are possessed with plenty. We do not presume to know the motive of this Iowa man in offering this measure, but trusting his motive was pure, and if so his constituents ought to see to it that he remains in Washington. If we ever needed benefactors, its now. Mr. Editor hope this will not go to the waste basket too soon. If you see too many imperfections in this, put on some polish. Very truly, J. M. HANEY, A Subscriber.

OF WOMAN INTEREST

Six counties of Kansas have women county clerks. The University of Pennsylvania has 1,623 women students this year. Some of the most active real estate brokers in New York city today are women. Mrs. S. C. Tallman conducts a successful plumbing business in Rutherford, N. J. There are more women than men in the student body of the University of Washington. Mrs. J. W. Gale, of Calgary, is the first woman to be elected to the board of aldermen of any city of Canada.

Miss Frank J. Emperor receives salary of fifteen hundred dollars a year as committee clerk of the Denver city council.

Women are to be employed as breaker hands, head-tenders, weighers and runners in the anthracite mines of Pennsylvania.

New York women are organizing to give active aid in the great task of reconstructing the war devastated regions of France.

Miss Katherine Russell Bleeker has stepped into the spotlight as active manager of the Broadway theatre, one of the historic playhouses of New York.

Mrs. Agnes K. Mulligan, successful lawyer and real estate broker, has the distinction of being the only woman member of the New York Real Estate Exchange.

Women conductors on the New York surface lines wear natty uniforms, consisting of blue coat, blue skirt and leather bags with military cap.

A city federation of women's clubs has been formed in Denver for the more effective prosecution of movements relating to the public welfare.

PRAYER FOR THE NEW YEAR

Lord God, we lift to Thee
A world hurt sore
Look down, and let it be
Wounded no more!

Lord, when this year is done
That wakes today
May shall pray to Thee
Who do not pray.

Let all lips comfort them.
All hearts be kind.
They who this year shall be
Their joys behind;

Give them Thy comforting,
Help them to know
That tho their hopes are gone
Thou dost not go;

They who shall give for Thee
Lover and son,
Show them Thy world set free,
Thy battles done!

Lord God, we lift to Thee
A world in pain,
Look down and let it be
Made whole again!

Averages Above 30 Cents Are Common These Days

We will hold auction sales every day, excepting Saturday and holidays from now on. You can rest assured that Danville will be the highest market in this section, as we are the closest market to the largest re-drying and manufacturing plants in the world. Our accommodations for both man and beast are as good as the best. The loose leaf floor plan is the best and only way of marketing tobacco to insure the highest dollar to the grower. These facts have been demonstrated in Virginia, North and South Carolina, where they have been selling tobacco on this plan for the past fifty years. Drive your wagon to the Danville market. You will always find some one to attend to your wants, and welcome you. During the sale we will do our very best to get you the highest market price for your tobacco. All the large factory buyers are on hand at each sale. We have experienced men in all departments to look after your interests, including two of the finest auctioneers in this or any other state. Our charges for selling tobacco will be the same as last year. The fact that everything else has increased makes no difference here. The warehouses do not buy tobacco except on sale at auction. We do a strictly commission business. Free stables and no rejection fee. Appreciating your past patronage, we hope you will see your way clear to bring us your tobacco, guaranteeing you the highest market prices, absolutely accurate weights and an all around square deal.

MIDDLEBURG
Owing to the unfavorable weather for gathering corn, much of the crop is yet in the field.
Frank Chapman, who deserted the army at Camp Taylor, was arrested by Sheriff J. D. Taylor last week and carried back to headquarters.
John B. Dinwiddie spoke for the Red Cross here Sunday afternoon when $41 was raised to be used in fighting the Kaiser.
Our clever townsman W. J. Godby is on his feet again after several weeks' confinement to his home with rheumatism. He looks somewhat worried by his long confinement and suffering but all are glad to see him out again.
W. T. Moore captured a large black eagle on his farm two miles below town Thursday a week ago. Mr. Moore shot it with small shot and slightly wounding, but sufficiently to bring it down. He then managed to capture it after a battle of some minutes. It is a great curiosity to people, who have seen it. Mr. Moore is trying to tame it and has named it "Bill Kaiser," but that would be treating it too badly, he thought.
A difficulty occurred near Yosemite Tuesday night between L. S. Brown and Esker Black, in which Brown seems to have come out only second best. As the tale goes Black and his wife were returning from Tennessee whither they had eloped to get married and on reaching Liberty had hired Brown to take them to their home on Hatter Creek, south of Yosemite, but on reaching a point about a mile beyond that town Brown refused to go farther and demanded his fare. Black refused to pay until the contract was complied with. Hot words ensued and as a consequence a fight, in which Brown seems to have gotten the "hot end of the poker," took place. His head was very badly bruised and he was otherwise used up. They were having it all to themselves when Jim Wilkinson, colored, commonly known as "Mud Hen," happened along and separated them, otherwise there would likely have been a funeral. Sheriff J. D. Taylor and Jailer Nose Overstreet came up early Wednesday morning and arrested Black and his newly-wedded wife and took them to Liberty for trial, but we have not been advised as to the result. Brown has always been pretty successful in encounters of this kind, but was up against this time. In fact the Hatter Creekers are usually in "train" and don't have to wait for training when a fight is to be pulled off.

A RED CROSS FORCE
The following is taken from the Pineville Sun, and will be of interest to the many interested in Red Cross work in this section as well as to the legion of friends of Mr. Coleman, a splendid resident of this city:
Any statement that Labor and Capital cannot work in harmony is proven as false by the action of the Coleman Mining Company and its employees last week in the effort to secure fifteen hundred new members in and around Pineville.
Mr. C. R. Coleman, General Manager, working in connection with a committee of miners, composed of Messrs. Finley Donaldson, Chas. Eads, Thos. Hill and Chas. Rosp, secured applications for membership and cash payment from every employee of the company, one hundred in number, and the check for the Red Cross Chapter of Pineville amount was sent by the company to Mrs. R. E. Samuels, treasurer of the local Red Cross Chapter, and placed to the credit of the Red Cross fund in the bank.
So far as we know the employees of the Coleman Mining Company are the first in the State on the Honor Roll that is being published showing that every employee is a member of the Red Cross Society. We take our hat to the miners of Fox Ridge for their loyal action and would like all other mining camps of Bell county to follow their example, and if there is another company in the county with a record as good as this one we would like to know about it.
At a meeting of the miners of this company, held on Thursday night, December 20th, not a single dissenting vote was cast on the proposition to join the Red Cross, and again we say three cheers for the Fox Ridge miners.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING
The stockholders of the Bank of Moreland will meet at the banking house in Moreland on Tuesday, Jan. 8, 1918, for the purpose of electing directors for the ensuing year and attending to such other business as may come before them. Charles Wilhoit, Cashier.

The Interior Journal

Congressman Harvey Helm left last night for his post of duty at the nation's capital. Asked just before he took his departure if he would be a candidate to succeed himself, he said that he would be and that his announcement would appear in abundant time. This will be good news to Congressman Helm's friends all over the district, and from the majority he always gets, his friends must include almost every democratic voter. It is very probable that he will have no opposition and he should have none. This is no time to swap horses and Mr. Helm's services in the House have been entirely satisfactory to those who endorse President Wilson's course, and they are very numerous in this section of Kentucky. He has been with the President all along the line and has made a record that his constituency has right to be proud of. The mere announcement that he will again stand for the nomination virtually means that he will go back for another two years, for he has long since proven that neither the democrats nor the republicans have a ghost of a show to defeat him.

The death of Editor Richard W. Knott, of the Louisville Post, removes from earthy scenes one of the ablest newspaper men in the State, if not the South. He was as independent and fearless as mortals ever get to be and his vitriolic broadsides at treason, whether in high places or low, in most instances made conditions better. He was an able defender of right, as he saw it, and while seldom on the winning side, he always gave to the man or proposition he was for the best that was in him. While he made enemies for the time, his extreme sincerity of purpose made those he fought soon forget and eventually admire the man who had the courage to say and do what he thought he should.

Many of our lawyers, at the expense of their private practice, are devoting day after day to helping the drafted boys fill out their questionnaires. It is hard and exacting work, in some instances taking a couple or more hours to make out a single questionnaire. The lawyers, of course, are working without pay and they are giving up day after day to this task. Their cheerful response to the call of duty is in line with the spirit being shown by real men everywhere in this great country. It is rather a new spirit and it is full worthy of every encouragement.

"Charlie Chaplin has just recovered from small-pox," reads a headline in the dailies. Don't get it into your head that it is the silly fellow of film fame, but it happens to be a negro of the same name. Charley hasn't had the misfortune of having to be sent to the pest house yet, but many who are disgusted with his sickening stage work think he should have been confined there long ago.

The United States enters the new year with a national net debt of $5,615,000,000, more than five times greater than when it entered the war nine months ago, but only one-third of the debt which promises to develop by the first of next year. The debt per capita is about $51, and the percentage of debt to estimated national wealth is 2 1-2 per cent.

The government did not take into consideration the fact that Negro's feet in most instances are larger than those of the whites when shoes for the drafted men were ordered and hence have not enough of the larger sizes for the colored fellows.

When Secretary Baker was asked if he discouraged women from knitting for soldiers, he replied, "Nit," with a k on it.

THE LATEST WAR NEWS

Three British torpedo boat destroyers were sunk through being struck by torpedoes or hitting a mine off the Dutch coast on the night of December 22, with the loss of thirteen officers and 180 men, the Admiralty announced.

Although it has been decided to rush American troops to France, Secretary of War Fisher has made up his mind that this will not be permitted to interfere with the training of soldiers in the various cantonments. Efforts will be made to improve every department of the army, especially the ordnance bureau.

The men who are going to do the fighting for the United States will be the young men who have no families and no one dependent upon them, according to a decision reached by Secretary of War Newton D. Baker and Provost Marshal General Crowder, who say that Class 1, under the selective draft plan, should provide all the men needed for the war.

Available figures indicate that 1,000,000 physically and otherwise qualified men may be had when all of the questionnaires have been returned properly answered.

Col. S. M. Owens, of Hustonville, refused $10 per barrel for a wagon load of corn the other day.

TRACE DISEASE TO CONSTIPATION

One of the points on which different schools of medicine practically agree is, that about 95 per cent of all human disease is directly or indirectly due to intestinal constipation. The elimination process is an essential factor in digestion and its proper functioning depends on the welfare of the entire system.

Constipation is a condition that should never be neglected. As soon as the bowels evince the slightest disposition to slow up, a laxative should be taken. The combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle, is highly recommended as a corrective, acting gently, in an easy, natural way, without griping or other painful discomforts. A small bottle of this excellent family remedy can be obtained, by mail, by writing to Dr. W. S. Caldwell, 415 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

MARRIAGES.

F. County Judge June Baxter and Miss Stella Bicknell, of Madison county, surprised their many friends by slipping off to Knoxville and having the matrimonial knot tied.

Lee Sapp, of the well-known furniture firm of Sapp-Slaton Co., Danville, was married in Lexington the other day to Miss Freda Messick, a popular young woman of that city. News comes from Hustonville that Hugh Sandidge and Miss Mamie North, both of the West End, were married the other day, and that they returned from a trip last night. The groom is a son of Matt M. Sandidge, and like his father, is an excellent citizen. The bride, who is said to be very pretty and attractive, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant North. Further particulars will be given later.

Mr. J. H. Phillips and Miss Mary McRoberts, of Stanford, were married at the home of Dr. E. M. Greene on New Year's Eve. The bride is a member of the representative Lincoln county families, and are popular. They were accompanied by Mr. H. J. McRoberts, father of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Phillips and Mr. J. S. Hamilton. The happy couple left on their wedding trip on the 5:30 Southern train.

Robert H. Woods, of this city, and Miss Helen S. Salton, of Harrodsburg, were married by Dr. Martin D. Harbo on a cousin of the bride in Chicago Thursday at 4:30 P. M., the ceremony taking place in the Harbo home. The two had been sweethearts for many years and their marriage is not a surprise to those who were aware of the fact that the shy old bachelor has been making frequent trips to Harrodsburg and other points to see the young woman he has just made his wife. "Bob" Woods, as his legion of friends know him, is one of the most substantial and successful of this section. He is the junior member of the firm of Harris & Woods, Col. S. T. Harris, the other member, being an uncle of his. The gentlemen are also big cattle and mule raisers, always having fine exports to ship and mules that wear the blue tie wherever they are shown. He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Woods, and is a fellow in every way. His bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Salton, of Harrodsburg, and a niece of Col. Sam M. Owens, of Hustonville, and Mrs. Lelia Cook, of this city. She is a handsome young woman, highly cultured and accomplished and has been very successful as a teacher of oral work. She has recently resigned a position in the Omaha, Nebraska, D. & D. institution, where her services were highly appreciated. She is well known here, where she has frequently visited and the many friends formed on those visits are delighted that she is to reside here. A hearty welcome will be given her when she and Mr. Woods return next week, and settle down to house-keeping in the Harris home out in the country. Hearty congratulations to "Bob" and may he and his bonnie bride spend a long and happy married life, and love each other more and more as the years roll on.

Relief is in sight for shivering Kentuckians. Realizing that Kentucky has been one of the hardest-hit sections during the zero weather because of the fuel famine, the Fuel Administration announced that it had ordered 700 cars of bituminous coal diverted from the Kanawha district of West Virginia to points in Kentucky, Ohio and Michigan. This it is believed, will meet the urgent needs of those localities, and also relieve the congestion of east-bound traffic.

Joe Will Rout, of the West End, bought of Walker O. Walker a pair of sorrel horse mules coming six years old for $375.

AIR RAIDS TOLD ABOUT

The following letter was written by Joe Hackley, who has been in London for some time, to his mother, Mrs. J. T. Hackley, of this county. He very interestingly tells of the air raids he has witnessed, and which have proven very disastrous to his adopted home across the sea:

61 Caram Street, Russell Square, London, W. C. 1, Dec. 6th.

Dear Mama—After about five weeks' freedom from aeroplane attacks, they came again this morning during the darkness. The moon was shining brightly, although it had waned to about one-third full moon. There were in all about 25 aeroplanes. They attempted to get over London from four different directions, but only six succeeded in getting over London. Two of these were brought down by gun fire and the crews taken alive. There were three men in each aeroplane, all Germans. Although they had killed three people in London by dropping bombs, the captured crews were accorded all of the rights of prisoners of war and given a good breakfast of bacon and eggs, which they no doubt looked upon as a luxurious treat. According to the official reports the aeroplanes attacked the east coast at 1:30 A. M., but were driven off. We received no warning of this in London, but slept through it. Another attack was made at 3 A. M., on the river Thames, about half way between London and the coast. They were driven off by the guns. While no warning was given in my neighborhood, we could hear in distant parts of the city and the people running in the street soon convinced me that something was pending. I rose and dressed, put on my overcoat and went out. I passed the Red Cross ambulance station nearby and just then two large Red Cross ambulances drove up as they always do during a raid. However, some policeman came up and said that they had been driven off and told all to go home. On my way back I passed the railway station where about 1,000 people had collected in the street. The police told the crowd to go home that there was no warning. At this the people all went away. As soon as I returned to the hotel at 3:30 A. M., I again went to bed. When I had just about decided to go to sleep again I heard some one use a door knocker across the street. Brass door knockers always look so clumsy, but this one made almost as much noise as a small horn. Arose and looking out of my window, heard a man tell his friend, whom he had aroused by his knocking, that there was another warning. The warning had not reached our neighborhood, but we could hear the faint sounds of a warning being given in other parts of the city. In about five minutes the real warning came which consisted of automobile hooters, police on bicycles, blowing shrill whistles and shooting shells over. I then dressed and after waiting four people in the hotel, some of whom had not heard the warning, I went into the street. I could hear the guns roaring in the distance and knew then that the attack was in earnest. It was then 5 A. M. While I do not like to go down in the underground railway tube because I can not hear the guns so well, I saw many people going down and went in for a little while. While passing down the spiral stairway which leads more than hundred feet below the ground, I saw all kinds of people, old men, women and children and many women carrying babies in their arms. The special constables had lined up the people along the corridors deep down in the ground and it was interesting to see what people in their haste had brought along with them. Many were carrying small dogs. I saw a little girl carrying large dolls. How the bombs could have hurt the dolls, I do not know. Many brought food and drink. While the underground railway is well ventilated and perfectly safe place during an air raid, I always prefer going somewhere else. So I went out about 5:30 A. M., and found that the guns were still going with a greater violence and I could see some fires which incendiary bombs had started. I took shelter under some buildings and listened to the wailing and wailing of the gun fire which indicated that they were very near the neighborhood or were far away. Many people stood out in the street even when the aeroplanes were very close and dropping bombs. During the quiet intervals I walked about in the darkness. When at 7 o'clock the automobiles came by, all clear, one could see the people pouring out of the underground railway stations, where they had gone for refuge. Having been deprived of four hours sleep, I went home to get my breakfast not feeling very much worse for my experience.

On several former occasions the aeroplanes have come directly over the place where I was. When this happens the guns follow them, throwing bursting shells all around them. One can then hear the noise of the aeroplanes, the bursting of bombs, the bursting of shells and what alarms one is the continuous screaming of the shells shot from the guns. As they rip the air with a whizz one always thinks that they may drop on one when they are passing over-head from many guns at the same time and much faster than one can count. During one raid last night as many as twenty thousand shells are fired up in the air at the aeroplanes which fly from one to four miles above the earth.

Some months ago when there was a number of moonlight raids in succession, I went to within 500 feet of a battery of guns located in a large open space. The moon was full and just after dark about 7:30 P. M., I heard the faint noise of the guns in the distance, they grew louder and louder until after some minutes the guns where I was began. Each shot illuminated the landscape as light as day. I took refuge under the overhanging limb of a large oak tree. While I was there the guns near me fired about 30 rounds. What annoyed me most was the fact that the guns made so much noise that I could not tell whether bombs were dropping near me. One shell dropped within 30 feet, but did not explode. Under the same oak tree there was a soldier and his sweetheart. My presence did not seem to disconcert him since he hugged her to his breast all the closer as each shot rang out with its accompanying flash. While there will no doubt be an occasional raid during the next three months we will not expect them very often until spring time and they may be too busy somewhere else to come then.

What we must do as soon as possible is to have so many aeroplanes at the front that they will fight us there in a fair fight and not come here. Their aeroplanes are the eyes for their guns and their railway bridges are the feeding pipes for their army. When we can destroy the eyes of their guns and perpetually bomb their railway bridges in the rear of their army by virtue of our overwhelming aeroplane superiority, they can no more spread their Kultur, but must embrace our own culture. I am quite well. Kindest regards to papa and all of the family.

Happy New Year

1:9:1:8

The year Nineteen Eighteen will be in every path of activity the most memorable, not only of American history, but of the World's. He would be lacking in the spirit of humanity who would fail to hope and pray that the prospect of this year's enormous and abnormal activities be cut short by early, decisive and enduring peace. But there seems to be no expectation of it from any horizon. The view seems rather to be that the strain of all the ages is to begin, in finance, in ground and factory production, all to be consumed by the raging fire of war. Back of every step taken the protection of Insurance is more than ever demanded.

I thank you for a liberal share of your business during the past year and promise you prompt and efficient service in the future.

I write all kinds of insurance at the lowest legal rates and will appreciate your patronage.

MR. DARBISHIRE'S XMAS TREE

One can be a patriot in many ways, and render noble service. All admit there was never a more opportune time than now. Mr. Robert Shelby Darbshire, the young farmer out on the Hustonville road, manifested the right kind of spirit last Tuesday and erected a Christmas Tree at his home. He invited all the children residing on his farm, the neighbor children and other friends. All that came were remembered, each receiving a present, and an abundance of candy and fruit.

The act of Mr. Darbshire is not only patriotic, it is most commendable, is worthy of emulation. He is a young man whose life is full of good deeds. Not for show. No. No. He detests this. He is a man worth while. The scene of last Tuesday when so many little hearts were filled with joy to overflowing, one little tot of three summers repeating a Christmas rhyme was sufficient remuneration, yes, more for all the cost, labor and time spent in arranging the tree. Robert Darbshire is a real Dear Santa Claus to many children in his community.—Danville Messenger.

JANITOR DOING HIS BIT

TEXTILE WORKER ENDS SUFFERINGS BY TAKING VIN HEPATICA

Nashville Woman Was In Terrible Condition Until Persuaded To Take the Great Nature Remedy, Vin Hepatica

"I simply suffered the pangs of death," says Mrs. Nora Clay, textile worker, of 16th Ave. and Broadway, Nashville, Tenn., and scarcely able enough to keep a bird alive before relief came to me.

"I could scarcely see at times; black specks would appear before my eyes; I was dizzy and almost had what they call 'blind staggers.' The suffering in my stomach was intense; there were mighty few things I could eat at all and what I did eat and any medicine I took, didn't seem to do me any good. 'Till almost despair of all hope when I read in the papers about Vin Hepatica. I decided to try it, and it is a God's blessing to me that I did, for I am now on the road to full recovery; am eating three meals a day without any distress in my stomach and I sleep like a baby. I heartily recommend Vin Hepatica to any one suffering from stomach trouble, dizziness, sleeplessness and that tired, run-down, like feeling."

Vin Hepatica is Nature's own medicine and is known as Nature's Universal System Purifier and Tonic. It is a combination of eight of the most powerful herbal remedies known to medical science for those who suffer from stomach, liver and kidney troubles; indigestion, constipation, sluggish liver, disease of the kidneys, sleeplessness, dizziness, nervousness, headaches, etc.

We strongly recommend this great Nature remedy. Come and get a bottle and try it, on our recommendation you will like it and it will do you good.

PASSED TO HER REWARD

Mrs. E. S. Goode, wife of George Goode, died at her home December 20, 1917, after a long illness of complicated diseases. Mrs. Goode had been sick for many years and unable to go from her room since June, but she bore her sickness cheerfully and very patiently. She was relieved of her suffering many times in answer to prayer. She talked to her loved ones and told them things she wanted done when she was gone, as though she was going on a few days' journey and would soon return. She said she was prepared to go and had no fear of death, except leaving her seventeen-year-old daughter, who cared for her so tenderly during her sickness. She was born Jan. 1, 1856 and was united in marriage to Mr. Goode, February 15, 1876. To this union were born eight children, five girls and three boys, one of whom died when small. She leaves a husband, one son, five daughters, eleven grandsons, thirteen granddaughters and a host of friends to mourn her loss. All the married children lived near her except one daughter, who lives in St. Louis, Mo. Mrs. Goode was a member of the Christian church at Willow Grove, a little church three miles west of Hustonville. She was a good woman and loved by all. Rev. Raugh, pastor of the Hustonville church, conducted the funeral services at the home at 2:30 December 22nd. The remains were laid to rest in the family graveyard, one mile east of the home. Her son, John, died December 28, 1916, so it will be a sad Christmas for the Goode family to think one was taken away last year and another this year. The broken-hearted husband and only child at home, Miss Edie, have the sympathy of all the friends and relatives. We feel that our loss is her gain.—A Granddaughter, Lida M. Foley.

SHOULD STAND TOGETHER NOW

The following, from the pen of Hon. Jere A. Sullivan, of Richmond, is so full of patriotism and good thoughts generally that this paper takes pleasure in giving its readers the opportunity to peruse it:

Five years ago this coming January I was paralyzed on the left side while in my office. Since then I have not been to my office, or in the courthouse on business, and have been putting in my time mainly in an effort to recover. I have been, necessarily, only an observer of current events, but a deeply interested observer and I have attempted the best I could from five daily papers, many magazines, both literary and religious, to keep up with the important current events in the State, in the nation and in the world at large.

Being requested, I consider it my duty to my party, to my State and to my country to give my views. It is a great honor and blessing to have the privilege of living in this greatest crisis in the history of the world; but more of a blessing to be able to take active part in it, but it will be a greater blessing to live through it and to take part in the mighty problems, which will arise because of the war and after it shall be over.

Never in the history of this country has it been more imperative that the nation and our State live up to our State's motto, for "A house divided against itself cannot stand."

The nation is at war with a powerful and unscrupulous enemy; we are appropriating billions of money and enlisting millions of our young men to bring this war to a successful conclusion. In such a national crisis there can be but two classes of people—patriots and traitors. That man who intentionally weakens the National Administration at this time, or who endorses the war one hour or sacrifice the life of one of our boys unnecessarily by giving aid and comfort to the enemy is guilty of treason. It is the duty of every citizen regardless of politics to give whole-hearted support to the President and to the party in power in all matters pertaining to the war. If the President and the party do wrong let them be called to account after the war is over. Now is no time for destructive criticism.

This nation is made up of forty-eight States; it depends for its strength upon the strength of the States. Every State administration, regardless of politics, that is supporting the National Administration deserves and should have the loyal support of the people of that State. After the war is over and the victory is won and our boys come back home, then let the old rotten game go on if the people desire it; but not now, fellow Americans, not now. "We cannot serve God and Mammon." We cannot serve the nation and at the same time destroy each other for party or factional advantage.

Kentucky is one of these forty-eight States. She has her duty to perform. Anything that strengthens the States, that strengthens the Administration of the State's affairs, that builds up confidence of the people in the State's fact helps the nation to win this war. On the contrary, anything that weakens the State government, weakens its power to help win this war, injures the nation, plunges the war and murders our boys. This is a serious business, and he who knowingly weakens the State Administration's power and influence, takes upon his shoulders a serious responsibility. There is no question that we have traitors and pro-Germans in our midst; they are in our mines, in our factories—everywhere. These people must be controlled and every word that discredits the State Administration encourages these dangerous elements. At present, incidentally, the State Administration happens to be Democratic with a Democrat as Governor. I would say exactly what I have said if it happened to be Republican; for in either event I believe it would be America first. But some Republicans may say that to aid the Administration would help the Democratic party and that would be bad politics. Possibly it may be bad politics, but it would be good patriotism and good Americanism. Will he mighty good politics after the war is over. The people cannot always be fooled with mere names. There is going to be a shake-up in my judgment, when the boys come home and ask of each stay-at-home politician—"what did you say and what did you do while I was in the trenches?" "Were you for us or against us?" "Which did you love the most, me or an office?"

The same thing might be said about the Governor. It looks to me at this distance as if he were trying his best to give us a good administration. We may not agree with him in all matters; but what does it matter? With whom do we agree in all things? Gov. Stanley is the responsible head of the State government. When he is right he deserves and should have the loyal support of every Democrat and in these trying times of every Republican. He should not be opposed in his administration of the State affairs to the best advantage. As said before, it is even bad politics in the long run. He is entitled to a square deal. Who was it said: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's. Render honor to whom honor is due?" These statements may sound old-fashioned, but they are true and right, and in the long run they are good politics.

To attempt to organize the Senate and House of the approaching General Assembly in order to embarrass and prevent the success of the Stanley Administration (Democratic) is as unscrupulous and illogical as it would be to attempt to prevent the collection of the Bingham inheritance tax for fear it may get the State out of debt, and bring glory to the Stanley Administration or its party. There will be no liquor question in the Assembly of 1918 unless the temperance men, for salary, create one for their own sake.

These words are written by an old-fashioned Democrat who loves his party, who loves his State, who loves his country. He has no personal interest in these matters other than

PREACHERSVILLE

Mr. Howard Holtzclaw visited the family of Mr. James Miller.

There will be business meeting at the Baptist church Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Thompson and family visited Rev. William Sprinkles.

The Christmas tree last week was a success, a thing of much beauty and joy while it lasted.

Mr. J. P. Arnold and family have moved into the parsonage till March when they will move to Missouri.

Mr. W. C. Blankenship and family moved near Stanford to Hon. J. B. Paxton's farm on Knob Lick pike.

Messrs. Howard Holtzclaw and Brogan Roberts, of Camp Zachary Taylor, were here on a holiday furlough. Both like soldier life.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hutchins have moved into the old Evans place. After years of service as teacher of the young men he will try farming on a large scale and here's hoping that he makes a success.

We are glad to state that from all accounts there has been less drinking in Preachersville and vicinity than for many years as has been the custom of the devotees of Bacchus through the festive Christmas season.

We notice some places brag about their ice, gas or electric plants, and what good service they give. But we are one ahead. We have a full-fledged gossip plant which measures 115 voltage power and covers the community like a fine toothed comb.

Mr. J. M. Cress and family have moved to the Yorkes farm, which he recently purchased near Danville. Our community regrets losing Mr. Cress as he was a good neighbor, sober citizen and a wheel-horse for accommodating his friends, neighbors or anybody who stood in need. Also a fine wire.

Rev. J. M. Robinson, pastor of the M. E. church here, and Miss Lena Arnold, the attractive and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Arnold were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage at Lancaster on Christmas Eve by Rev. P. D. Palmer in a most impressive ceremony. Rev. Robinson is a rising young minister and has many friends here, where he has been in charge. His bride is a good housekeeper and is a general favorite with our young people. We extend best wishes for a long and happy life together and may no sorrows mar their pathway.

Messrs. Ben Ballard, James Gill, Virgil Roberts and Henry Blankenship each drove a wagon loaded with the household and kitchen furniture and et cetera belonging to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cress on their moving trip to Boyle county. All stayed over and spent the night with the genial host in his new home. When the hour of bed time came the young men were shown to the room they were to occupy. After some time spent in parlaying it was agreed that Ballard and Gill should seek repose in a sumptuous folding bed. The lads eyed the bed sideways and seemed reluctant to retire after the other boys related several hair raisers about people often being shut up in this sort of beds. But sleep soon overtook the tired youngsters and they turned in for the night, each in low, admonitory whispers telling the other to "lay still." Now the steady, stanch as an oak and safe as their own trundle beds of infancy, was security itself. The practical jokers in the other bed feigned sleep until satisfied the friends in the big folder were slumbering when they arose and shut up the boys with much haste and noise and made a mock rescue saying they were "in just the nick of time," which makes the boys believe they are lucky to live.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger, and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better. In fact, cured me. I have been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic. Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

NC-132 that which every good citizen should have. He has no ax to grind. From a sick room he has watched with much interest the play of these contending forces, and he has written these words for the careful reflection of true Kentuckians.

CRAB ORCHARD

Mrs. J. T. Manuel left Saturday for Lebanon Junction to live.

Little Porter Jones went to London to see his grandparents.

Miss Ruby Hilton, of Stanford, was with Mrs. Frazier Hurt Xmas.

Mr. Henry Cline came from Hazard to see his friends here this week. Prof. Everett and wife were with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Collier during the holidays.

Mr. Newt Goodman has opened up a bargain store here and is doing a fine business.

Mr. Frank Brooks came home from Lebanon to spend a few days with his daughter, Mrs. Hunt.

Miss Joanna Ballou, of Stanford, gladdened the hearts of her cousins by a visit during Christmas.

Mr. James Buchanan came from Louisville to spend Xmas with his wife, baby and mother here.

Messrs. Lou and Phil Pettins, of Harlan, attended the funeral of Ernest Campbell last Saturday.

Messrs. Billy George Holdman, of Williamsburg, and Henry Davis, of Camp Taylor, spent Xmas here.

Mr. Hamilton has moved into the Payne property on Sprines avenue, recently vacated by Mr. Skiles.

Mr. John Stephenson, Jr., returned to Cincinnati Tuesday after visiting his parents here for the holidays.

Mrs. Harvey Foley and Frank Adams went to Somerset last Thursday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watson.

Mr. Montez Fish came home from Louisville and spent a most pleasant time with his parents and grandmother.

Mrs. R. H. Batson and daughter, Cecil, of Lancaster, have been with her sister, Mrs. Frazier Hurt for several days.

A brother of Mr. Tom Wells, died on Fall Lick and was buried Saturday. He was a great sufferer from tuberculosis.

Mr. Claude Morgan and wife, of Legan Junction, visited relatives here last week. They went to London to visit their relatives there.

Mrs. Sue Curtis, Sterling, Curtis and wife have moved into the home they purchased of the Napier heirs. We welcome them in our midst for we know so well the kind of citizens they are.

A union Christmas tree at the Christian church held many useful and sensible presents for the little ones and was enjoyed by a good crowd. As usual there were laughable things. A box of "Energy Drops," of Francis Burgin was lustily cried off by Shirley Gover and brought forth peals of laughter and we hope Francis and his dictator feel much better over them.

Mr. and Mrs. Birney Fish and sweet little Martha, of near Lawrenceburg, have been with Mrs. M. E. Fish and other relatives. They have made good this year and will farm on a broader scale next year. He has rented a tract of land near Harrodsburg. On two acres of land he raised $150 worth of tobacco and 12 barrels of corn besides beans and other entables.

Clarence Collier and bride came down from Corbin and spent several days with Mrs. Harvey Collier. Clarence is a general favorite with both old and young and everyone rejoices over the step he has taken. He and his bride will go to housekeeping in the Dishon cottage near the depot. Clarence is employed by Mr. Sid Duke, who would not exchange him for the best man in the land.

No one who ever left Crab Orchard will ever be missed more than Mrs. Anna Napier, who left Wednesday for Paris to live. During her stay here she has been one of the greatest helps to the Christian Sunday School, Ladies' Aid and church. We feel that it will be almost impossible to do without her and sincerely hope she will be understood and appreciated in her new surroundings. No one has left more friends here.

The remains of Ernest Campbell arrived here Saturday from Bellevue and were buried on the cemetery hill at 2 P. M. This was a sad ending of what seemed such a bright career. Ernest was seventeen years of age and a year or more ago, he volunteered to enter the navy, with his work he was well pleased and was liked by both officers and crew. A severe cold contracted while on duty settled on his lungs and he became so ill an operation became necessary. From this he gradually grew worse and was sent home. His parents and sisters have the consolation of knowing that they ministered to his every wish and were with him to the last. Something many will crave but he denied. Ernest was a fine boy and his many friends are grieved over his untimely death. The funeral discourse was delivered by Mr. McClary and although we have heard his consoling words over the dead, never did we listen to sweeter or more beautifully expressed sentiments than those uttered over the remains of Ernest. Not much was said about the dead, but the words were a soul balm to the living and everyone felt he was in touch with the greatest Comforter.

ATTENTION! Sick Women

To do your duty during these trying times your health should be your first consideration. These two women tell how they found health.

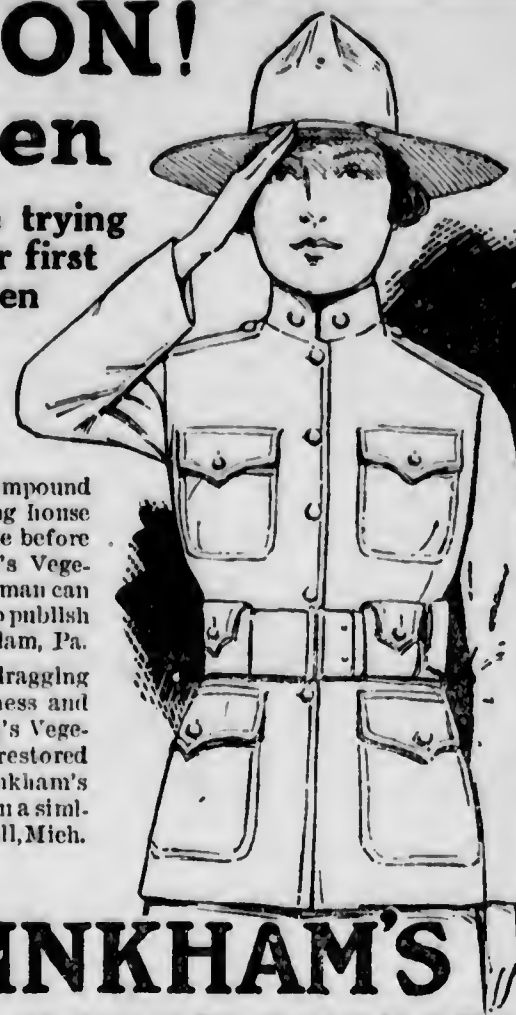

Hellam, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and a displacement. I felt all run down and was very weak. I had been treated by a physician without results, so decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and felt better right away. I am keeping house since last April and doing all my housework, where before I was unable to do any work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly the best medicine a woman can take when in this condition. I give you permission to publish this letter."—Mrs. E. R. CRUMMING, R. No. 1, Hellam, Pa.
